

MY LAST
sweet
SUMMER

a nostalgic minizine
by Lo Riddell

It is summer 2008.
I just finished 2nd grade.
I don't know it yet,
but this will be the last
sweet summer of my childhood.

Here are some of the things I have been doing
lately:

PLAYING CLUB PENGUIN

(after convincing
my mom it
was safe)

DING DONG DITCH

I only knocked on our neighbors' back doors because I thought it would be more polite. I didn't realize it would be even more terrifying

PAPER BOATS

I made these with my friend Sam and sent them floating down a stream of water in the road after a rainstorm

watching

CAMP ROCK

as it premiered on Disney Channel with my cool babysitter

playing

“REAL LIFE MARIO”

which is a game my siblings and I invented where we gather up all the spiky gumballs in the yard and take turns
being pelted by them.
